where i don't know
is where i want to go
the route to meaning
isn't necessarily direct

where we don't know
is where I want to go
can we travel together?

what might we find?
what might we discover?
what might we gain?
what might we lose?

shall we pack a compass
and bring emergency flares?
or should we trust to the
deep wisdom of our gut?

where I don't know
is where I want to go
will you travel with me?
